"Market Volatility in the O&G and Commodities Market: Key Risk Issues"

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

As volatility continues to impact the O&G and commodity markets, parties are increasingly pressured to review their commercial bargains and revisit their contractual provisions.

It is vital, not only to identify key risk issues but to know how best to approach a party seeking to renegotiate or avoid its contractual obligations. A misplaced step in a tense environment can lead to disastrous consequences.

This seminar uses practical test cases from all aspects of the supply chain to highlight commonly encountered pressure points by exploration companies, builders, suppliers, charterers and traders. Topics covered will include the following:

- Your contract: is there a contract and what are its terms
- Change in Economic Circumstances: attempts to renegotiate
- Stopping Work: illegality, force majeure, frustration
- Contract Termination: tricks and traps
- Managing the Fall-out: minimizing your loss exposure
- Getting your result: What are your options?
